RULES OF ORDER.

SEC. 131. When a sister intends to speak on a question, she shall rise in her place and respectfully address her remarks to the president, and avoid all personality and indecorous or sarcastic language as well as any reflection upon the lodge or its members.

SEC. 132. The president shall be addressed by any member rising to her feet as "Worthy President."

SEC. 133. No question shall be stated unless regularly moved and seconded, nor open for consideration until stated by the president; and when a question is before the meeting, no motion shall be in order except to adjourn, to postpone, or to amend.

SEC. 134. No motion can be made by one member while another is speaking.

SEC. 135. The president, while presiding, shall rise and state every question coming before the lodge, and immediately before putting it to a vote, shall ask: "Is the lodge ready for the question?"

SEC. 136. Every member present must vote on all questions before the lodge, unless personally interested in the result.

SEC. 137. When a sister rises to speak she shall confine herself strictly to the question under debate.

SEC. 138. When the decision of the chair is appealed from, the president shall state the question as follows: "Shall the decision of the chair be sustained?" If there is a tie vote the decision of the chair is sustained.

SEC. 139. After any question has been decided, any two members who voted in the majority may at any time during the meeting move for a reconsideration thereof, but no debate shall be allowed on the main question unless reconsidered.

SEC. 140. When a member calls for the previous question, and the call is seconded, the president shall immediately put the question. If it fails, the discussion continues as if the motion had not been made; if adopted, all debate shall cease and the main question shall be put by the chair and disposed of without debate.
